J. D. Disbennett and G. D. Hues, two prominent merchants of Orange Lake, came down yesterday. This morning they called in and subscribed for the STAR, and gave us a good order for job printing.

The STAR's hungry force was again delighted by some delicious peaches brought in this morning by Mrs. J. N. Edwards. We assure her they were highly appreciated, and 15 minutes afterwards there were none of them left lying around loose.

The Osceola club held its regular meeting last night. The following officers were elected: President, Jack B. Hiers; vice-president, Henry C. Stevens; secretary, Val Neely; treasurer, Charlie Floyd; manager, Nathan Mayo; assistant manager, Charlie V. Miller.

Capt. Larnerd, general agent of the Plant system, who has been very ill at his rooms in the Ocala house, is a great deal better today. ## VERY BUSY.

They are obliged to work about 18 hours out of the 24 to get the list ready for publication by Oct. 1.

Bring your job work to the STAR office and see how cheap they will do it for you.

A gentleman from Orange Lake went out to see a friend in the country the other day, and spent the day eating peaches and watermelons. When he started home his friend gave him a melon to carry with him, which was so large that he had to turn it lengthwise in his wagon bed to carry it. How's that, brother?

John Cordero, the popular young ticket broker of Jacksonville, has dissolved partnership with John J. Fuller. Mr. Fuller will continue the business in Jacksonville, and Mr. Cordero will go to Atlanta between now and September 1. On that date he will open up a first class cut rate ticket office at 42 Wall street. Mr. Cordero is an old Ocala boy and has many friends here. He has been visiting in Ocala for the past few days.

Our railroads are doing a good business with their cheap excursions, there being one of these excursions every two or three days on one of the different roads. In this way a great many people travel who would not be able to do so were they compelled to pay full fare. And these are not all Sunday excursions either. As some people find such an objection to the latter, there are ample excursions run for those who object to travel on Sunday.

The compositor yesterday, not having the never-erring Morning News before him, got the names of our musical clubs mixed, and referred to them as the Metropolitan Glee Club orchestra, instead of the Metropolitan band and Glee Club orchestra. Hereafter we will have that scriptural sheet before his eyes, and doubtless he will steer clear of all errors, although they are prone to occur in the best regulated families. At the same time, we must say that the gentleman who wields the stick and rule in this office is one of the neatest and most correct we have ever seen. He sets up the entire paper every day, and frequently sets a whole column without a single error.
